ATTENTION! ADVERTISERS!!-The DAILY PRESS has the largest city circulation. Newspaperial.—The Abend Zeitung, of this city, has passed into the hands of Chas Remelin and will hereafter be published under the n me of the Demokrat. SEE Madame Hollard's advertisement in another column. Her fame for treating dis-case has almost become a household word, and induces pretenders in different parts of the country to copy her advertisements.

"Tickets, Gentlemes!"—We have heard considerable and very loud grumbling among the patrons of the "Pendleton and Fifthstreet Market-space Railroad," at the seeming refuctance of its managers to sell commutation tickets, in accordance with the requirements of the ordinance now in force. Would it not be advisable, Messrs. Directors, to hurry up the tickets?

CHILD RUB OVER AND BADLY INJURED.— A lad about four years of age, son of Mrs. Landram, residing in Sixth-street, east of Broadway, was run over by a dray last evening, while playing in the street. His left arm was badly fractured, and his body severely, although not fatally, injured. The lad in his haste to escape from a playmate ran under the wheel of the vehicle, which fact wholly exonerates the drayman from Fight in a Denning-saloon—A Man Dangerously Wounded.—Last evening, between nine and ten o'clock, a general fight occurred in a drinking-saloon, the Caledonia Shades, on Vine-street, above Fifth, and during the nætee, Frank Duffy, residing at No. 96 George-street, received a deep cut over the left eye from a knife, a severe contusion, as if with a slung-shot, on the crown of the head, and a fracture of the nose. Duffy was supposed to be in a dangerous condition at midnight, but the persons who wounded him, not yet known, are still at large.

A CINGINNATIAN DROWNED IN A TAN VAT AT HARRODSBURG, KENTUCKY.—At Harrods-burg, Kentucky, last Tuesday morning, a man named Christopher Lynch was found dead in a vat at the tan-yard of F. W. Curry, in whose employ he had been for a short time. The supposition is that he had taken time. The supposition is that he had taken a seat on the steps near the vat and had gone asleep, and accidentally fell into the pool. He is said to have been a resident of this city, where he leaves a wife and two children. He was about forty years of age, and an excellent workman. A letter addressed to his wife, and unfinished, was found upon his person which manifested much affection for her. How the body was disposed of was not stated.

LATE FROM PIRE'S PRAK.—Our well-known fellow-citizen, Isaac A. Hedges, of "Little Giant Corn-sheller" fame, returned home yesterday from Pike's Peak, where he has passed several months. He informs us that at least three-fourths of all the emigrants to that region will leave there before winter, having become disgusted with their vain efforts to find gold. No doubt Pike's Peak is, as we have always said, a great humbug.

Mr. Hedges showed us a ten-dollar piece of Pike's Peak gold, coined at Denver City by a firm there, which turns out some $2,000 daily. Mr. H. states that the letters written from the Peak are generally of a very unreliable character, being the statements of interested parties, and thinks that all persons who go there will be destined to a bitter disappointment. ter disappointment.

Mysterious Disappearance - Probable Alternative Disappearance — Probable Suicide.—On Saturday last an old and well-known citizen, named George W. Reese, who keeps an auction store at No. 28 West Fifth-street, left his place of business and has not since been heard from. He leaves a wife and family , who are distressed at his absence, and wholly unable to account for it. Every place that they could think of, that he was in the habit of visiting, has been ransacked without avail, and they are fearful that, in consequence of some recent pecuniary troubles, he has committed suicide—at least, they can give no other solution to the mys-tery and this is propably suggested by fear; for it is well-known that the most horrible thoughts present themselves when they are the least expected. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be received by his family with gratitude.

FATAL RESULT OF A RECENT ACCIDENT—Death of a Lad from a Wound Received at Play.—About three weeks ago a couple of lads, named John Evans and Thomas Cain, after amusing themselves for a long time in the Wade-street Market-house, by playing with a knife a game familiarly known as "mumble-peg," began to push each other from the bench on which they sat, and continued this, in an amiable manner, until the knife, during their romping, was buried in knife, during their romping, was buried in Cain's left breast. The wounded boy was conveyed to the residence of his parents, in Conter-street, near Clark, where his injuries were attended to by a neighboring physician. Evans was arrested, but the story he told was corroborated by his playmate, and, as the wound was given accidentally, he was immediately discharged. Day before yester-day Cain died, and Coroner Carey held an inquest upon the body, which resulted in a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

THE RECENT WOMAN-WHIPPING AFFAIR AT THE RECENT WOMAN-WHIPPING AFFAIR AT HAMMOND-STRIET STATION-HOUSE—Decision of Mayor Bishop.—The case of Captain Small, who was charged before the Mayor with cowhiding a woman, named Johanna O'Neill, at Hammond-street Station-house, has been related at length in the Passes, and our readers are probably familiar with all the circumstances. Mayor Bishop gave his decision in the case yesterday morning, which we herewith publish in full. It will be observed that he thinks the use of a cowhide upon prisoners unjustifiable under any hide upon prisoners unjustifiable under any circumstances, and suspends the officer for ten days, thus making his sentence agree with his capitaler.

A very ill-natured person, whose regard for the sex leads him to believe very much as did "Duke Aranza," remarked in our hearing, yesterday, that the "punishment was much too severe; the officer should have been suspended only about thirty minutes." The following is the Mayor's decision:

"MAYOR'S OFFICE, CITY BUILDING, CITY OF CINCINNATI, Oct. 15, 1860.
"The evidence in this case shows the following facts: Johanna O'Neil was acting yery badly, and that she is notorious for her obscene and abusive language; that she was not enly abusive to Captain Small and others, but particularly so to the woman and children who were lodgers in the station-house at the time this occurred; and further, that the murdered Guelich was brought into the station-house, when it became impor-tant, if possible, to have quiet restored. It is also in evidence that Captain Small acted more with the view of intimidating her and restoring order, than with the intention of hurting her.

These circumstances all being duly considered, the question arises is an officer, under any circumstances, justifiable in re-sorting to such means?

sorting to such means?

On this my mind is very clear and decided that they are not. Yet I am induced to make due allowance for Captain Small in the present case. The circumstances were unusually provoking, and well calculated to throw a man off his guard, and cause him to act without due reflection, which, connected with the fact that he has heretofore been a humans officer to the prisoners in his charge, induces me to come to the conclusion that a reprint and, and suspension of ten days, in sufficient punishment.

R. M. BISHOP, Mayor.

Heavy and Successful Forgery-Forty or Fifty Thousand Dollars Involved A Father Detrauded by His Sonsin-Law-

Pather Detrauded by Ris Son-in-Law-Absconding of the Alleged Guilty Party.
Our financial circles were somewhat startled yesterday afternoon by a rumor to the effect that Henry Esmann, an old-established liquor-dealer, at No. 105 Pearl-street, had absconded from the city, carrying with him forty or fifty thousand dollars, which he had obtained by selling forged paper to a number of our Third-street Banking-houses.

The most diligent inquiries failed to clicit any other facts than those which follow. A man, whose name we withhold for obvious reasons, not long since discounted a note for reasons, not long since discounted a note for $1,000, which was indorsed by Esmann's father-in-law, William Wolff, of the firm of Charles Wolff & Co., on Main-street, between Night and Court Ninth and Court, Yesterday the holder of the note met Mr. W.

and spoke of the matter, telling him that he held some paper of his son-in-law's with his name upon it. Mr. Wolff replied there was certainly some mistake about it, for he had not indorsed any of Esmann's paper for six months, whereupon the note was produced and the signature pronounced a forgery. Inquiries were then instituted, which resuited in finding several others who had been victimized in the same manner, until the amount, it is said, will reach the sum above stated. Mr. Esmann's whereabouts then became a matter of interest, but he was nowhere to be found. Last night, however, it was discovered that he had left the city early in the morning, bound due North, and it is quite likely he is now in Canada.

Heretofore the reputation of the absconding merchant has been very good. He seemed to be doing a fair business, and the readiness with which the forged paper was discounted in Third-street, is the best evilence of his standing, and that of his father-n-law. The affair has caused considerable excitement in certain circles, and will probably cause some interesting developments. Esmann was a member of the School Board for the Tenth Word, and was highly esteemed in that body.

PIKE'S OPERA-HOUSE,-The comedy PIEES OFFRA-HOUSE.—The comedy of Set has proved so attractive at this House, that it was repeated last night to an unusually large audience, and is announced again for this evening. The play is founded on scenes in the life of a New York merchant scenes in the life of a New York merchant [Mr Taylor], whose beautiful and dashing wife [Miss Susan Denin] mingles among the aristocracy and involves her husband to the brink of ruin by her extravagance. The main hits of the play are at the extravagance of wives—which seem to be lungely enjoyed by the men—and at the censoriousness and appetite for scandal, of the society which the car wife ricks as much to mingle with by the men—and at the censoriousness and appetite for scandal, of the society which the gav wife risks so much to mingle with.

The beautiful and reckless wife is well personified by Miss Denin, in whom a husband might easily overlook a pretty liberal expenditure; and Mr. Taylor acts the respectable, proud and anxious merchant as naturally as if he was not more familiar with the habits of Kings and Princes, The moral heroine of the play is the merchant's daughter [Miss Plankett], the step-daughter of the present "Mrs. Apex," who is excluded from her father's affection by the arts of the step-mother, and whose little fortune is robbed by her step-brother, Charles Sandford [Mr. Mortimer], by means of a forged check, to relieve bimself from gambling debts, and his mother from pecuniary distresses.

There is a Mr. "John Unit," a retired banker [Mr. Lanagan], a prominent character in the play, worldly wise, and given to telling disagreeable truths, but who is a protector for the wronged daughter, and comes in at the last to help the merchant out of his distresses. A colored nurse [Miss M. Radeliff] is the faithful servant of the play, and does up considerable negro talk in a very natural way. A traveled fop [Mr. Chaplin] talks in a style not known to either heathen or Christian fops. "Mrs. Radius," [Miss Laura Leclere] gives excellent specinosa of the appetite of society for scandal; and "Mrs. Codliver," [Mrs. C. Pope] a fashionable lady, addicted to doctors, patent medicines and an enormous appetite, does the wealthy vulgarian and the King's English.

The play opens with an excellent representation of a fashionable lady and the representation of a fashionable declared to doctors.

The play opens with an excellent representation of a fashionable dry-goods store, with lady shoppers and polite proprietors and clerks. The piece is put upon the stage with that completeness of appointments that characterizes the Opera-house. We have not undertaken to particularize, for generally it was excellently porformed. Its reception was flattering: and in the brieffull in the political contest—a thing fatal to ammements—it promises a successful ran.

The Gale Sisters are exceedingly graceful and charming dancers, and are constantly growing in public favor.

The comic talent in this company enables it to make the farces a more than usually it to make the farces a more than usually attractive feature. The farce of Hunting a Turtle was highly entertaining, and Mr. Chaplin played the "Hon. L. Levison" in his usually amusing manner.

NATIONAL THEATER,—Mr. Collins, the well-known Irish comedian and vocalist, will appear this evening at the National in two flavorite characters—"Mr. McShane," in the Nerous Man, and as "Morgan Rattler," in How to Pay the Rent. The performance will conclude with Sketches in India, in which the vivacious Addie Proctor will appear as "Sallie Scraggs." "Sallie Seraggs."

FULLBR'S PATENT WATER FAUCET.—We would call the attention of our readers to a new style of stop-cock or water faucet manufactured in our city which we think is scarcely as well-known to the public as its merits deserve. This is the "Fuller Patent Faucet," manufactured by Albert Fuller & Co., at their factory, No. 118 East Second-street. Every occupant of a house store or street. Every occupant of a house, store or office in our city, who has water-pipe in or about his premises, knows the inconvenience, annoyance and damage so frequently arising from the stop-cocks becoming leaky, from long use or the freezing of the water in the wa in them. We have frequently seen fine and costly houses seriously damaged by the over-flow of water from some imperfect faucet. Heretofore the only resource has been to replace the defective cocks by new ones, frequently at considerable expense and trouble. Mr. Fuller, himself a practical and experienced plumber, seeing these inconvenier like a true Yankee, set himselt to remedy them and has succeeded admirably. Finding that all the ordinary styles of both plug and screw faucets, however accurately atted at first, would inevitably become leaky by use, he discarded them all, and adopted instead of them a conical plug or valve, made of vulcanized India-rubber, fitting into a metallic seat, and so arranged that the force of the water itself aids in closing it, and thus the greater the pressure the greater the impossibility of any breakage. As the plug is placed back of the chamber of the cock, the water is shut out therefrom when it is closed, so that no harm can arise from freez-ing, and as it moves directly back from its seat, instead of turning in it, there is no wear upon it, and it will last an indefinite time. upon it, and it will last an indefinite time.

Then it is opened and closed with the utmost care, requiring but a slight pressure of the hand; and lastly, if any accident should happen to it, it can be very easily removed and repaired. Messrs. Fuller & Co. are now manufacturing on this place. manufacturing on this plan every style of faucets, bibbs and basin-cocks, finished in the highest style of workmanship, and contain-ing all these improvements. They have al-ready introduced them into most of our leading hotels and business-houses, where we are glad to learn they meet the approval they deserve.

Political News. BUFFALO, N. Y., October 15 .- The Repub-Buyfalo, N. Y., October 15.—The Republican demonstration to-day has been by far the grandest political display ever known in this city, fully equaling the demonstration in 1840, and only excelled by that of the Atlantic-cable celebration. Large deputations of Wide-awakes arrived on the early trains, and before noon the streets were thronged with strangers. The weather during the forenoon was unpropitious, some rain falling, but by noon it had cleared up, and was pleasant throughout the remainder of the day.
